

Manchester is a city waiting to be discovered

Welcome

There is more to Manchester than meets the eye; it's a city just waiting to be discovered. From superb shopping areas and exciting nightlife to a vibrant history and contrasting vistas, Manchester really has everything. It is a modern city that is dynamic, welcoming and energetic with stunning architecture, fascinating museums, award winning attractions and a variety of bars & restaurants.

Manchester is also a hot-bed of cultural activity. From the thriving and dominant music scene which gave birth to sons as diverse as Oasis and the Halle Orchestra, to one of many world-class festivals and the rich sporting heritage. Throw into the mix an impressive range of galleries and museums (majority of which offer free entrance) and visitors are guaranteed to be stimulated and invigorated.

Manchester is a compact and accessible city centre. Most areas are within walking distance of each other and from everywhere else, or if you just want to save energy, hop onto the Metrolink tram or jump aboard the free Metroshuttle bus.

Just a couple of miles outside of the city are:

The Quays: Manchester's dynamic waterfront destination
Can be accessed directly from Piccadilly via Metrolink or ample car parking available

The Trafford Leisure Village: Offering activities as diverse as snowboarding to high ropes adventure, shopping to ski diving. Free car parking available and a direct bus link from Piccadilly Gardens.

We hope you have a wonderful visit.

The 50 acre Gardens feature 250 years of garden design including the famous Japanese Garden. There is also the historic farm, while the Tudor Old Hall tour covers 500 years of Tatton history.

Shopping

When it comes to shopping, Manchester is hard to beat. Whatever style your heart is set on, you'll find it here. The good thing is that most of the shops and quarters are within walking distance from each other, so it comes as no surprise that high-end shopping is just around the corner from vintage chic.

To help you find your way around Manchester's retail heaven here are our top tips on where to go...

High Street Heaven on Market Street

In the heart of the city centre and car-free, Market Street couldn't be a better place for high street shopping. Besides the likes of American Apparel and Urban Outfitters there is also the Manchester Arndale, a double layer of renovated loveliness stuffed to the rafters with big names including Topshop, Levis, Apple, Adidas and a huge Next.

Exchange Square and New Cathedral Street include Marks & Spencer, which sits stylishly amidst Selfridges, where you can find Jimmy Choo, Alexander McQueen, Kurt Geiger, Rock & Republic and across the street the super chic Harvey Nichols including designers such as Prada and Stella McCartney. Just a stones throw away is the Triangle, one of Manchester's premier shopping centres, situated in the former Corn Exchange building.

Vintage and Vinyl in the Northern Quarter

The Northern Quarter is packed with small and unusual shops and outlets, home to all sorts of oddities and quirky finds. Take Den, for example. It's part gallery, part shop, showcasing not only its trademark bespoke furnishing but also selling a mish-mash of vintage home ware and decorations. Down the road you will find one of Manchester's iconic shopping outlets. Opened in 1982 and still occupying the brightly decorated corner of Church Street and Tib Street, the legendary Afflecks continues what it does best - providing affordable outlets for independent designers and traders.

While the Craft & Design Centre housed in the beautifully restored former Victorian Fish and Poultry Market, is home to an array of artist-run studios offering the best in local design, jewellery, bags and accessories.

There are also a handful of shop-cum-café places that are worth checking out, namely Café Pop, a vintage shop with a small downstairs café, and Oklahoma, a bazaar of all things weird and wonderful including gifts and home ware and a quirky little eatery.

For those who are on the hunt for rare vinyl's and independent music, try the different record shops along Oldham Street such as Piccadilly Records and Vinyl Exchange.

Exclusive Shopping on King Street

Exclusive King Street has been a place for prestigious retail therapy since the 19th Century and is now home to designer shops including Armani Collezioni, Thomas Pink and Jaeger Ladies wear. Vivienne Westwood's flagship store can be found at the top of King Street but it's also worth visiting her Anglomania Store on Bridge Street, the first of its kind to open in the UK. Just a short walk from here and you'll find upmarket shopping at Harvey Nichols and Selfridges on Exchange Square.

Out of Town Shopping

Further out of town but easily accessible by public transport and car (with the benefits of free car parking), The Trafford Centre is the place to go for your fashion fix. It is home to a whopping 230 stores and 60 restaurants, bars and cafés. Check out Barton Square with its flagship home ware outlets including Habitat, M&S Home and British Home Stores.

Over at Salford Quays, the fashion conscious should head to the Lowry Outlet Mall, Manchester's only factory outlet shopping. Open seven days a week with prices up to 50% below the high street all year round, the Lowry Outlet Mall offers more than 260 brands at over 80 stores. These include a Nike Factory Store, Flannels, Whistles as well as a choice of cafés and restaurants, entertainment, free shopper parking and a stunning Quayside location.

Music Scene

Music has always been an important part of life in Manchester. Over the years, every genre imaginable has drawn a crowd: from classic performances of the Halle Orchestra to the 60's 'British Invasion Band' Herman's Hermit's; Joy Divisions punk era; an 80's 'Madchester' scene; mid-90's Britpop from Oasis and even a viable attempt at hip-hop which carries on regardless from the ashes of a now deceased but never forgotten Grand Canal records. Today the city continues to build on its legacy with some world-class venues that play host to all kinds of musical styles.

Night & Day, Roadhouse and numerous bars in the city host up and coming artists, whilst the O2 Apollo, Manchester Academy and the Manchester Evening News Arena (MEN) present more established acts.

If you're more of a classical fan, head to the Bridgewater Hall, a regular host to the BBC Philharmonic Orchestra and home of the Halle, or try and catch a free evening performance of Evensong at Manchester Cathedral.

Thomas Street, Manchester, M4 1EU | 2A Landcross Rd. Manchester M14 6NA

Restaurants

Manchester's restaurant scene offers an exciting selection of British favourites and authentic international flavours. From European and traditional Chinese to exotic Turkish dishes; there is hearty pub grub, affordable Indian curry houses, and genuine tastes from South East Asia. In fact, it's difficult to find a style of cooking or cuisine that isn't represented somewhere within the city.

Here's an overview of the city's foodie neighbourhoods:

Spinningfields / Castlefield

The newest quarter on the block, Spinningfields has quickly established itself as a hub of food, drink and social life. It's home to 25 popular bars and restaurants including Gourmet Burger Kitchen (Irwell Square, M3 3HF), Carluccios (Hardman Square M3 3EB) and Australasia (The Avenue, M3 3AP), to name but a few. A lively outdoor events programme entertains visitors with live music, festivals and Screenfields; the city's first open-air cinema.

In contrast, Castlefield is an historical area with cobbled streets and canal side dining. Dukes 92 (Castle Street, M3 4LZ) offers informal ambience with views over the canal. The multi award-winning Choice Bar and Restaurant (Castle Quay, M15 4NT) is just across the basin, serving a delicious, modern British à la carte menu, while Albert's Shed (Castle Street, M3 4LZ) brings a Mediterranean flair to the city by serving delicious Italian cuisine.

Chinatown

Take in the lights, sounds and tantalising smells of Chinatown. The Yang Sing (Princess Street, M1 4JY) is considered one of Europe's finest Cantonese restaurants, using only the freshest ingredients to create authentic dim sum and à la carte dishes. The popular and award-winning Pacific (George Street, M1 4HF) offers both Chinese and Thai food and has one of the best wine lists in town. For less formal food, stop by Ho's Bakery (Faulkner Street, M1 4FH) where you can pick up delicious soups and sweet and savoury Chinese pastries.

Northern Quarter

Considered the creative heart of the city, the Northern Quarter is home to many of Manchester's independent bars and restaurants. Home Sweet Home (Edge Street, M4 1HW) is a gourmet bake house & coffee bar born out of a love for good simple food and drink, home comforts and things that make you feel special. The Soup Kitchen

(Spear Street, M1 1DF) has a modern canteen feel and takes pride in its healthy menu, with daily soups and specials and a superb salad bar. In the evening, The Northern Quarter Restaurant (High Street, M4 1HQ) is a must, serving gutsy, fresh food and using prime, locally-sourced ingredients with added flavours of the Mediterranean and beyond while Blackdog Ballroom (Oldham Street, M1 1JG) offers a slice of NYC's secret downtown speakeasy style.

Piccadilly

Vibrant and cosmopolitan Piccadilly is conveniently situated for Piccadilly railway station, bus station and city centre shopping. The area has a range of quality places to eat and drink and there's always something to fit any budget. For lunch, the award-winning Barburrito serves fresh, tasty, healthy food: portions are huge with burritos, tacos and quesadillas. Adjacent, Rice Piccadilly is a lively restaurant where you can take front row seats to see your meal being cooked. The menu is excitingly eclectic, serving a range of dishes from Thai to Japanese to Moroccan specialities. Kro Piccadilly is a great bar for a post-shopping drink and is well-known for its menu of Danish classics. For something that little bit special, Michael Caines Restaurant at ABode (Piccadilly, M1 2DB) offers superb modern European cuisine, using the finest produce and ingredients sourced from the surrounding regions of Manchester, Lancashire and Cheshire (One Piccadilly Gardens, M1 1RG).

Deansgate / King Street

For an indulgent treat, the exclusive areas of Deansgate and King Street are the places to go. It's a great place to finish your day after a spot of designer shopping. The food and drink offerings around King Street and Deansgate lives up to the standard set by the first class stores in the area. Room Restaurant (King Street, M2 4AH) fuses antique and retro for a stunning interior that once welcomed Kylie; the classic contemporary menu is fantastic value for money. Chaophraya (Chapel Walks, M2 1HN) provides the finest Thai cuisine in a luxuriously modern setting, whilst Café Istanbul offers a truly wonderful Turkish feast. And the five-star Lowry Hotel's River Restaurant (Chapel Wharf M3 5LH) offers a modern British menu and serves the finest Sunday roast in the city, with the added bonus of relaxing and peaceful views over the River Irwell.

Bars and Pubs

Manchester also has a whole host of bars from the ultra trendy to the more traditional British style pub. Below is a brief summary of some of Manchester most popular bars:

Kosmonaut (Tariff Street) - is a convivial neighbourhood hangout firmly established in Manchester's Northern Quarter with stellar food and drinks, excellent coffee, super fast WIFI, ever-changing art exhibitions and a fierce ping pong league.

The Briton's Protection (Great Bridgewater Street) - winner of 'The Best Pub in Manchester' title for the past 2 years, this traditional style pub is next to The Bridgewater Hall and is popular with musicians from the Halle & BBC Philharmonic orchestras and boasts over 200 whisky's, great ales, a beer garden and two roaring fires.

Cloud 23: Located on the 23rd floor of the landmark Hilton Beetham Tower, Manchester's sophisticated sky bar offers amazing views of the city. Table service and a fantastic cocktail menu, themed around Mancunian icons, add to the elegance.

Taps (Watson Street) - Manchester's only self-service beer venue, where queues are unheard of and every guest is a bar-tender! Our beer wall boasts a wide variety of Europe's best beers, stout and cider!

The Old Nags Head (Jackson's Row) - next to the town hall, a very popular hidden gem of a pub, dating back to the 1880's, which was used as the regular in the Cold Feet TV series. Boasting 4 pool tables, a video jukebox, a rooftop patio and a function room, this is one of the busiest pubs in Manchester.

Cask: Located opposite the Science & Industry Museum on Liverpool Road, you'd be forgiven for not noticing this friendly little bar with it's unassuming exterior. Squeeze through the tiny doors however and you'll find a lively place crammed with everybody from businessmen to unpretentious celebs. The beer list is without doubt the most comprehensive in town.

Sinclair's Oyster Bar (Exchange Square) - one of the oldest surviving buildings in central Manchester, sharing an outdoor seating area with the Old Wellington Inn, which was also moved to this new location following the 1996 IRA bomb.

Apotheca: (Thomas Street) - antique pharmacy cabinets and an almost gothic feel give this Northern Quarter cocktail bar plenty of character. A downstairs bar is also attached to Dough Pizza Kitchen next door by an underground tunnel.

Bakerie (Lever Street) - located in the Northern Quarter a European style bread and wine bar offers great traditional ales and an impressive wine list with over 70 bins to choose from. An ever changing wall of media art and design make it a friendly and unpretentious place to sit and enjoy delicious freshly baked bread and great wines.

The Alchemist: What is widely recognised as Manchester's best cocktail bar can be found in Spinningfields, just behind The Opera House. Cocktails are carefully crafted using a variety of molecular drinks-making techniques that are every bit as much about the presentation as their extraordinary taste.

Australasia: Located underneath the Georgio Armani store in Spinningfields, a block down from Peter Street on Deansgate, this beautiful Pacific Rim themed cocktail bar opened in May 2011 to widespread acclaim. From the same team behind The Alchemist, the cocktails are every bit as impressive whilst the DJ emulator is a real talking point!

Room: Fantastic cocktail bar inside the beautiful building that was once the Reform Club on Spring Gardens. An eclectic mix of antique furnishings, statues and the largest retro lampshades in Manchester, this is without question one of best bars in the city.

Sams Chop House (Chapel Walks) - quite literally a Manchester institution having been first established in 1872! Specialising in Great British Cooking with a local influence, Sam's chop house serves up seasonal regional specialties in a delightful Victorian tile and timber setting.

Peveril of the Peak: The 'Pev' could arguably be Manchester's most famous pub. This distinctive looking traditional pub has also been a haven for many a celeb. Sat awkwardly on a triangular piece of land on the corner of Great Bridgewater Street, the amazing two tone green brick work and roof top washing line makes it one of Manchester's best loved landmarks.

The Old Grapes (Little Quay Street) - The Old Grapes is a traditional pub located just around the corner from the Opera House Theatre, Little Quay Street. The pub is part owned by Liz Dawn aka Vera Duckworth and the décor is enhanced by the signed photo's of stars from around the world.

Mark Addy (Stanley Street) - just a short walk down Bridge Street, off Deansgate, and across the bridge (which officially takes you into Salford), you'll find the great riverside basement bar which is the Mark Addy. Named after the publican who saved many people from drowning in the river that separates the cities of Manchester and Salford, it's most noted for the excellent food.
